The Friends of the Colorado Talking Book Library is a 501(C)3 non-profit dedicated to supporting the programs of the Colorado Talking Book Library (CTBL).

The Colorado Talking Book Library provides free service to Coloradans of all ages who are unable to read standard print material due to visual, physical or learning disabilities whether permanent or temporary. CTBL provides recorded, Braille and large-print books and magazines as well as a small collection of descriptive videos.

The Colorado Talking Book Library is part of the Office of the State Library in the Colorado Department of Education.
